The development and implementation of a comprehensive Financial Plan may be the major step, but it is only the first step towards achieving your financial goals and the resulting satisfaction.

After setting up your Plan, continued progress towards those goals, and peace-of-mind will depend largely on knowing that your interests are being looked after, and that you are going to be kept informed of the progress of your Plan in the ever changing economic conditions. In other words, you need to know that your Financial Plan will be expertly reviewed and that you will receive regular progress reports that suit you.

This may seem obvious, but every investor's circumstances and personal preferences are different. Only you can decide on the level of service you require. Only you know what information you want – and how often – so together, we need to formulate a service offering that suits you.

Your Adviser will help you define your vision for your financial future. Through diagnosis of your current situation, including your existing assets and future income we will construct a strategic plan designed to meet your goals. We will provide specific, comprehensive and/or structural advice depending on your circumstances and needs. We specialize in using innovative strategies and lateral thinking to help you achieve your goals and objectives.

To make sure that you do get exactly the level of regular service and communication that you require, we can offer you a range of service packages which specify precisely what you expect from us, your Advisers.

The service offering will be explained to you, and you will be able to determine what will benefit you.

- Change of Employment
- Change of Income levels
- Increase or decrease of debt levels
- Marital Status
- Legislative changes
- Taxation Environment

A range of fees or associated costs may be charged for the advice you receive from us or the products used. Your adviser will explain any fees or costs that may apply to you and if you wish to proceed, a Service Agreement will be provided which will outline the services you have requested and the agreed payment method.

Initial advice

The initial advice fee covers the cost of researching and preparing your financial plan. It is also based on a set dollar amount, between the range of $500 and $5,500, which will be provided to you within a Letter of Engagement or Initial Advice Agreement. These documents are agreements that set out what the advice will be and what it will cost you. Additionally, these fees will also be disclosed within the Statement of Advice.

Advice implementation

The advice implementation fee covers the administrative time spent implementing the recommended strategies and products and again is based on a set dollar amount, between the range of $1,500 and $5,500, dependent upon the complexity of your situation. The advice implementation fee will be disclosed in the Letter of Engagement, Initial Advice Agreement and in your Statement of Advice.

Ongoing advice

The ongoing advice fee covers the cost to review the strategies and products recommended to you in your Statement of Advice. An ongoing review, as previously mentioned, helps you take advantage of opportunities as they become available and to make changes when they are required.

The ongoing advice fee is calculated as a set dollar amount, between the ranges of $1,500 and $7,500, dependent upon the complexity of your situation. Ongoing advice fees may increase each year in line with CPI or by a fixed amount, dependent upon the changes in your situation that impact on the time and advice that we provide to you.
